April 2023 Newsletter

Dear Parents/Carers,

We've had lots of excitable children in school today. Thank for supporting our 'Break the Rules' Day. Any funds raised will go a long way to support more fun events in school.

Just a quick letter this time with some details of events coming up...

Industrial Action

As you are no doubt aware, an additional day of industrial action has been called next week, affecting all classes except for Y5 and Y6 who will be in as normal.

The strikes are happening because of a national dispute between the unions and the government over pay and, and not because of any issues at our school.

We understand this action may cause difficulties for some families however we also recognise the hard work and commitment that teachers and school staff constantly show to children at Bryn St Peter's and hope you understand that any decision has not been taken lightly.

Hopefully the dispute will be resolved soon and we can all get back to running as we were before.

Coronation Celebrations

Next Friday the children will be celebrating the King's Coronation. They will be taking part in drama workshops through the day and finding out more about what is happening to the King and its significance. We will also be sharing a cream tea in true British tradition, in our classes.

On the day it would be great for the children to dress for the occasion - either in red white and blue, or with a royal theme.

*Parking****

Have met the newest recruits to the school team yet? - (The three 'lollipop' children who have appeared outside school) Hopefully this will remind anyone dropping off or picking up not to stop outside school, where we have had a few near misses. Thank you to the majority of our parents, who park considerately, or who walk to school.

SATS

Our Y6 children are almost ready to embark on their SATS in the next couple of weeks, and show what they have learned so far in their time at school. They have worked really hard and we would like to wish good luck to them all.

Y2 SATs are less formal but will be taking place in May, too.

I'd like to wish you a happy long weekend both for this week and next and will catch up with you on the playground.
